

ROCKET

ROCKET RPGs in Education

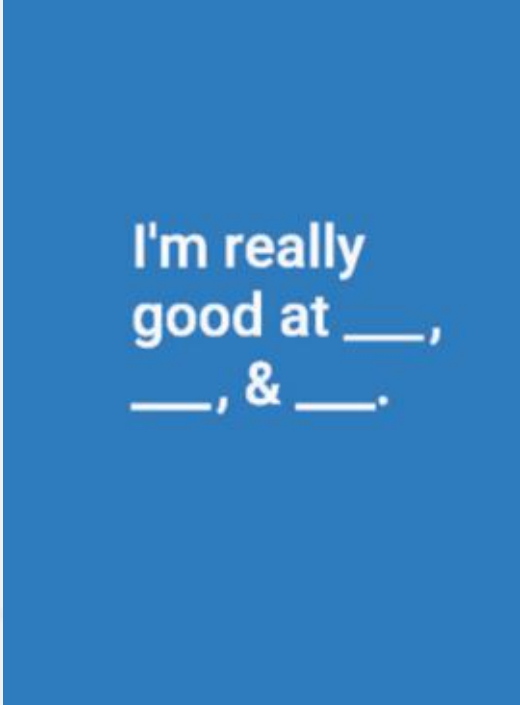

An Erasmus+ Higher Education Cooperation Partnership
Göttingen University, Uppsala University, Groningen University

Getting to Know Each Other

When you enter, please type the following in the chat:

- My name is _____.
- My pronouns are _____.*
- I am logging in from _____.
- My university is _____.
- Read the Card for Connection and fill in the blank:
 - “I’m Really Good at _____, _____, & _____.”

*Consider including your pronouns with your name on Zoom:
Participants → Your name → Rename

I'm really good at ____,
____, & ____.

Image courtesy of Erin Hickok.
Cards for Connection available at Gamesforhumanity.co m

Student Experience

- When have you experienced RPGs in education as a student?
- What was that experience like? What memories do you have of it?
- If never, what subjects do you think would have been useful to have learned in this way?

Teacher experience

- How do you think conflict transformation principles would be helpful to teach in your discipline, if at all? Be specific.
- How do you think role-playing games might be helpful in your teaching more generally, if at all? Be specific.
- How might the ROCKET content on conflict transformation through role-play be useful in your context? Be specific.

Content So Far

- What did you find surprising or intriguing about the role-playing games content so far?
- Any questions on the content?

THANKS!

